

Trickster's Prayer

weareoracle:

jordfast-lokaverr:

As I lay me down to rest,
Trickster, won't you be my guest.
Come and see me in my sleep,
And know my heart is yours to keep.

And when the morning dawns with light,
Trickster, keep me in your sight.
As I go about my day
Come and teach me in your way.

And when the world is harsh and cruel,
Trickster, use me as your tool.
Correct the wrongs as you see fit,
Criticise with word and wit.

And when a problem comes my way,

Trickster, promise me you'll stay
To see it through until the end
And all the while remain my friend.

And when my heart is hard and hollow,
Trickster, find me in my sorrow.
Comfort me in times of pain,
And help me learn to smile again.

And when my heart is filled with glee,
Trickster, won't you laugh with me?
Together, shall we mock the Earth,
Lighten our hearts with joy and mirth.

As I lay me down to bed,
Trickster, you are in my head.
Whatever morning has in store,
Be with me forevermore.
